BOARD REPORT #17-01

2015-2016 MINNESOTA-WISCONSIN RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT

2016-2017
MINNESOTA-WISCONSIN INTERSTATE TUITION RECIPROCITY PROGRAM
ADMINISTRATIVE MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

Purpose

In order to implement the statutory authority and the formal interstate agreement negotiated between the two states, this administrative agreement has been prepared to specify administrative procedures of the program.

DURATION OF THE AGREEMENT AND PROCEDURES FOR MODIFICATION

This memorandum is subject to the principles and conditions of the Minnesota-Wisconsin Public Higher Education Reciprocity Agreement and is to be effective July 1, 2016. The memorandum is subject to annual review by both administrative agencies.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

To insure procedural regularity and compatibility, the two administering agencies have agreed to follow the procedures outlined in this memorandum:

1. Public Information

After formal adoption of the agreement, each agency executive will direct a detailed written communication regarding the administration of the program to the institutions of post-secondary education, all secondary schools, and other interested individuals, and organizations in his state. Prior to the start of each academic year, the two administering agencies will cooperatively develop and implement training workshops for personnel from participating institutions of higher education if such workshops are deemed necessary by both agencies.

2. Application form

A common application and procedure will be used in both states. All students from each state will complete the same application and submit it to the respective administering agency in their home states. Both new and continuing students will use the same application. The application will require general and institutional information. The student needs to complete one application. This application will provide reciprocity for the student in continuous attendance. Should the student not attend an institution for 365 days, the student must reapply for reciprocity. Should a change in the student's residence occur, the student and/or the institutions must notify the appropriate administering agency in writing of the change.

3. Residency

The administering agency in the student's home state will make a determination of residency based on the information provided by the student during the application process. The agency reserves the right to refuse eligibility if the information provided by the student does not substantiate the claim of residency.

4. Approval and Certification Year

Once eligibility is determined, it shall continue through the academic year for which certification has been granted. Should a student's residency status for fee assessment purposes change during the academic year, the originating state's responsibility to the student under the agreement will cease with the beginning of the first term following establishment of residency in the other state. The certification year begins with the Fall of each academic year and ends with the last Summer session or workshop which begins before the first day of the Fall term of the succeeding academic year. The student that is in attendance and has earned credits during the 2016-2017 academic year will automatically have reciprocity benefits renewed for the 2017-2018 academic year unless notification has been received by the administering agency of a change in residency.

5. Application Deadline

Applications must be postmarked or electronically submitted no later than the last day of scheduled classes of the first term for which the student expects to receive benefits under the agreement. Eligibility shall continue for the remainder of the academic/certification year. The administering agencies will cooperate in a mutual exchange of academic calendar information.

6. Coordinative Procedures

Periodically throughout the certification year, the administering agencies will exchange alphabetical listings of all residents of their respective states who are participating in the reciprocity program. The administering agencies will also provide alphabetical listings of their state's residents eligible for participation in the agreement to the designated institutions of post-secondary education in the other state. Nothing shall prohibit agencies from exchanging data in electronic format.

7. Institutional Monitoring

Each administering agency will be responsible for monitoring institutions in its home state for compliance with the provisions and spirit of the agreement.

PROCEDURE FOR COMPUTATION OF INTERSTATE REIMBURSEMENT

1. Definition of Terms.

Terminology used in the computation of the net state interstate reimbursement is described in the Agreement.

2. Student Categories.

In determining the net state interstate reimbursement obligation, the following categories of student enrollment institutions and associated instructional costs will be used:

A. Undergraduate Students

1. Undergraduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities, the University of Minnesota-Morris, and the University of Minnesota-Rochester.
2. Undergraduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and the University of Minnesota-Duluth.
3. Undergraduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin Comprehensive institutions and the Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU) four-year campuses and the University of Minnesota-Crookston.
4. Undergraduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin System Colleges and the MnSCU two-year campuses.

B. Graduate Students

1. Graduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities.
2. Graduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and the University of Minnesota-Duluth.
3. Graduate students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin Comprehensive institutions and the MnSCU four-year campuses.

C. Professional Students

1. Law school students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities.
2. Pharm D students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities.
3. Pharm D students enrolled at the University of Wisconsin – Madison and the University of Minnesota – Duluth.

The total costs and the reciprocity cost differentials for each of the categories of students and institutions listed in this section will be determined after each state's operating budget for public higher education systems has been finalized. These cost differentials will be based on actual costs per student for the 2016-2017 academic year.

3. Reciprocity Tuition.

Institutions covered under this agreement will charge the following reciprocity tuition rates to students who are determined eligible to receive tuition reciprocity benefits during the 2016-2017 academic year. Tuition rates charged to students shall be based on the terms of the 2007 agreement. For reciprocity purposes, tuition rates will remain consistent during the academic year, starting with the fall semester and going through the following summer term. In no case shall a student counted under the agreement be charged more than the regular non-resident tuition.

Consistent with the agreement's treatment of other forms of direct and indirect student aid, students enrolled in courses, programs, and/or institutions that do not charge a nonresident tuition rate but charge a tuition rate other than the resident rate to all students enrolled in a course or program shall not be eligible, nor shall they be counted under the agreement.

Graduate students who receive a tuition waiver as a benefit of employment at the institution shall be eligible and counted under the agreement. The tuition reported by the institution to the administering agency shall be the reciprocity tuition rate for graduate students at that institution.

4. Institutional Procedures.

After each academic term, each administering agency will provide three copies of the cooperatively designed final certification (enrollment status) list to the other state's participating public institutions. The list will include the names of all students who have been certified as eligible for participation in the reciprocity agreement during that term. Using these lists, each institution will enter the number of credits carried by category (undergraduate or graduate) and the amount of the reciprocity tuition paid by each student certified. The institutions will cross out the names of these certified students who did not enroll or withdrew at any time during the period of that term for which the student is eligible for a tuition/fee refund. The institutions will certify by signature for correctness of this data and will send two copies of this completed certification list to the administering agency in their home states. Nothing shall prohibit participating schools and agencies from exchanging data in electronic format.

5. Agency Procedures.

- A. Each administering agency will be responsible for the timely return of the completed certification lists from the institutions in its home state. The administering agency will forward one copy of each institution's completed certification list to the administering agency in the other state.
- B. The data provided by the institutions for each term on the certification lists will be balanced for each institution and any adjustments adequately documented for subsequent auditing.
- C. Once the data for each term have been balanced, a copy of the results will be supplied to the agency in the other state, along with a report of the number of undergraduate and graduate students for whom nonresident tuition has been waived under the agreement. Each state will certify to the other state the number of students, the number of credits carried and the total amount of reciprocity tuition paid by each student at each institution. Student and credit hour totals for each institution will be grouped by category and the school and category totals will be grouped by each agency. This information will be used by each state to facilitate the computation of the net interstate reimbursement obligation and to monitor institutional reporting. The deadline for such reconciliation for each term shall be 90 days from the conclusion of that term. Subsequent changes to institutional certifications shall be only with consent of both agencies.

- D. At the end of each academic year, each administering agency shall calculate the Net Reimbursement Obligation under the terms of the agreement. This information shall be reported to the administering agency in the other state for historical reference purposes.
- E. The net state reimbursement obligation will be calculated and paid in a manner described in the Agreement.

6. Common Data Format and Coordinated Planning

To insure compatibility of information pertaining to the program, both agencies will adopt a common data format and share data maintenance and reporting responsibilities. To improve the information about the program for purposes of research, planning and evaluation, both agencies agree to collect and maintain any mutually agreed upon data.

7. Financial Aid for Reciprocity Students

Either state may establish a financial aid program for its reciprocity students in the other state as provided in Minnesota Statutes 136A.08, subd 5., and in Wisconsin Statutes Chapter 39. The terms of such financial aid programs may be formulated outside the reciprocity agreement and shall be included in the annual administrative memorandum. Any such financial aid programs may be non-reciprocal. A financial aid program must not be constructed so as to affect the computation of interstate reimbursement, as specified in the agreement, or the payment arrangement for the interstate reimbursement to the general fund.

8. Wisconsin Reciprocity Supplement Program

The Wisconsin Higher Educational Aids Board established a reciprocity supplement program, in accordance with Minnesota Statutes 136A.08, subd 5., and Wisconsin Statutes Chapter 39 for Wisconsin reciprocity students matriculating on Minnesota campuses during the 2008-2009 academic year. The reciprocity supplement program was phased out at the beginning of the 2012-13 academic year. Students who were enrolled prior to the beginning of the 2012-2013 academic year were eligible for a Wisconsin reciprocity supplement program payment until the end of the 2014-2015 academic year or until they complete their program or are no longer continuously enrolled (not including summer terms), whichever comes first.

The reciprocity supplement program was ended at the end the 2014-2015 academic year. No further reciprocity supplements payments are due or will be made for the 2015-2016 academic year or future academic years.
